Banks Gain in Cash From the Subtreasury,

BUT LOSE TO THE INTERIOR

Good Bank Statement Looked for Tomorrow.

STOCK PRICES WERE IRREGULAR

Some Gains Were Made, But the Manipulation Was Thoroughly

Professional

Special Dispatch to The Star. NEW YORK, July 19 .- The preliminary estimates of the principal movements in currency during the week concurred in setting forth a gain in cash by the banks in the neighborhood of $4,500,000. The banks' favorable balance in their operations with the subtreasury amounted to more than $4,800,000, but they suffered a small loss on account of the interior movements in currency.

With such a gain in cash as that indicated, however, tomorrow's bank statement ought to show quite a handsome increase in surplus reserves. This prospect would appear to be indicated also in the low rates which have been quoted for loans on call this week and which were continued today. Sterling exchange rates advanced rather smartly.

In the day's stock market a large number of advances in prices were made, which at their maximum represented very extensive proportions. The general course of prices was, however, after all, irregular, and the market's upward tendency was punctuated by frequent smart reactions. This was no more than was to be expected, however, when the extent of the advance in prices during the past ten days was considered and when there is considered also the thoroughly professional and manipulated character of the market.

Leaders Were Unchanged.

There was a large increase noted in the volume of business, and a greater number of stocks changed hands than has been the case recently, but nevertheless the trading again showed an undue concentration in activity upon the same particular stocks which have been conspicuous in that regard

The London stock market was generally strong with decided animation in the American department, but the activity there was not succeeded by either buying or sell-ing orders for foreign account upan on appreclative scale.

Apart from the prospective showing of tomorrow's bank statement and the senti-mental influence usually exerted by the advanced quotations for American stocks, in the London market, there was little or nothing of general importance to be cited in connection with the course of prices. So far as particular stocks were conin the way of news were furnished by the preliminary annual statements of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific com-

The remarkable exhibits which were made coincided very closely with the forecasts which were in general circulation earlier in the week. Union and Southern Pacific were both conspicuous features of the railway list in every respect. list in every respect.

Steel Stocks Supported.

There was nothing further to be adduced in connection with the continued animation in Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific except through the repetition of the same reports which have accompanied the transactions in those stocks for the past ten days or more, and there was no variation in these rumors today, nor were they in any way substantiated. Transactions elsewhere in the railway list were unaccompanied by the slightest news or novel gos-sip. The traction shares were again rela-tively heavy, for sufficiently known reasons. A fair volume of business was transacted in the industrial and miscellaneous issues. where the tendencies displayed were identi-cal with those exhibited by the railway list. The United States Steel stocks showed, however, a rather better degree of support than has been witnessed for some time.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, July 19.-The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 3a5 points under scattering liquidation and bear pressure. Cables were about as due, and the weather continued favorable in the south. Sentiment here was nervous and unsettled, and fluctuations following the call were irregular. Some of the large local professionals and southern bulls appeared to gradually eased off, and during the middle of the morning were about 6a9 points net lower on the active months, with October selling below the lowest point of last week. Business was moderately active, but mostly professional.

REVIEW OF THE TRADE.

NEW YORK, July 19.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow

Even New York city has supplied an increase in bank exchanges this week, as compared with the same week last year, so that there is no exception to the record of improvement to the volume of business as shown by this measure. It is true that the increase here was comparatively small, a decrease in the volume of security transactions partially offsetting the expansion in comm-rcial lines. Gains for the week over last years figures varied from 1.8 per cent at New York up to 96.5 per cent at Minneapolis, and the total for all leading cities outside New York was $898,670,987. an increase of 8.6 per cent over last year's figures, and 222 per cent as compared with the corresponding week in 1905. The effect of speculation is still conspicuous in making the increased clearings relatively smaller at leading cities of the east, whereas the expansion is largest each week gain of 24 per cent at St. Louis followed by 17.8 per cent at Kansas City, and many other western statements were over 10 per cent better.

PREDICTS LARGE FALL TRADE.

Dun's Review indicate that seasonable merchandise is rapidly going into consumption and preparations are made for a large fall trade, confidence having increased materially. Boston reports activity in summer fabrics, and early inactivity of the dry goods jobbing trade has been made up. Clothing manufacturers at Philadelphia report large fairly active and payments are up to the average. General merchandise is moving satisfactorily at Pittsburg; dry goods jobbers report a fair volume of trade. 'Steel plants are active, but payments' are somewhat irregular.

Buyers are arriving in the Baltimore market to make fall purchases, clothing manufacturers report a large increase in orders for harvesting in the vicinity of Kansas City improves the general tone and makes prospects for fall trade encouraging. Most lines of retail and wholesale trade begin to feel the usual midsummer duliness, how-ever, but agricultural machinery houses ance sales reduce stocks. Industries are well employed and collections more prompt. Retailers report an excellent summer trade at Omaha; shoe jobbers are very busy, and collections are more prompt than usual at this season. Crop conditions con-tinue favorable in the Minneapolis district, and merchants place large orders for fall and winter delivery, while agricultural sup-plies are in great demand. Clearance sales dep'ete stocks of vummer merchandise at St. Faul, making collections more prompt. Accorde fall or were grand last year's, especially in dry good, and cancellations are cally received from a few points, where the wheat crop outlook 'a uncertain.

Although there is a seasonable subsidence of jobbing activity at Portland, Ore., retail hade is accelerated by warm weather, and prospects for fall trade brighten with the assurance of large crops.

CASE BEFORE COURT.

William M. Hallam, referee in bankruptcy, today filed his report on the proposed settlement of Walter Hieston with his creditors. Mr. Hallam finds that the agreement proposed amounts in law to a composition with his creditors and should be proceeded with as provided in the bankruptcy law for such compromises with creditors.

In his report to the court Mr. Hallam finds that the proposed agreement is signed many circles and the fact that the activity by all creditors, known to him to be such, except Post & Flagg, secured creditors, to the operation of room traders and a few and J. Thilman Hendrick. As to the claim professionals, it seems to be bel'eved that of Mr. Hendrick, the report states, he has presented a certified copy of an agreement signed by him and two other creditors, which is the same as the agreement signed by all the others. Post & Flagg are secured creditors, and have not signed either of the agreements. In view of the fact that the agreement purports to be signed by all creditors, the referee is of the opinion that t should include the signatures of these reditors as well. No objection, he says, has been entered before him to the proposed dismissal of the proceedings.

Before confirmation of the agreement or composition if the court be of opinion that it should be ratified, Mr. Hallam recom-mends that the bankrupt should be required to deposit in court, or pay to such officers the fees of the referee, together with disbursements made by him for print-ing and publishing the notices herein; and the compensation and expenses of the receiver in the cause.

By the agreement the creditors of Mr. Hieston are to accept his notes for the amounts of their claims, payable in two years, and the assets of his brokerage business. ness is to be returned to him. Post & Flagg, who have not signed, are the largest creditors, but are said to be at least partially secured by stocks transferred to them, notably the large holding of Mr. Hieston in the Traders' National Bank, Justice Anderson will probably pass on the report within a few days.

WARTER HIESTON BANKRUPTCY FOUR DEATHS FROM HEAT AND TWELVE SERIOUS CASES.

> PHILADELPHIA, July 19 .- Of the thouands of persons overcome by the heat while watching the Elks' parade yesterday about 100 spent the night in hospitals. Many of them were discharged today. The number of deaths due more or less directly to the heat and humidity numbered four, and there are about a dozen cases considered serious by the hospital physicians. The dead were residents of this city and those still in a serious condition are also Philadelphians. The Philadelphia police, hospital authorities and emergency corps are receiving congratulations today for the efficiency displayed in yesterday's crisis.

The fact that the death list was small is principally due to the prompt relief given by the authorities, who were prepared for a large number of heat cases. The number of prostrations, however, went beyond their expectations, and in consequence all hospitals and temporary hospital quarters were The big feature of Elks' week being over.
